

Langkloof Hunting Safaris

"Where your hunt becomes a life-long memory"

About us...

Langkloof is owned by Braam and Lilanie Viljoen and is situated in the heart of the Waterberg Mountains in the Limpopo province, South Africa, only 2 hours drive from O.R. Tambo international airport. Since 2000 the farm has developed into the piece of heaven on earth we call Langkloof Game Farm. Hunting has always been a big part of who we are, with passionate Professional Hunters and guides that ensure your visit with us will be one you will never forget. We have a wide variety of species to hunt from small antelope like the Duiker to old Buffalo bulls.

Our accommodation speaks for itself and directly reflects on the pride we have for this place we call home. It is perfect for any nature lover to come and enjoy nights around the camp fire, and gaze up into the starry night whilst a jackal calls in the distance. For hunters and nature enthusiasts we can guarantee an experience like no other.

Owners:

"As a family, we have had the privilege of calling Langkloof home for the last 22 years. It has always been a place that allows our love for nature and wildlife to grow and flourish and we are so glad to be able to share our piece of Africa with other nature loving enthusiasts..

Outfitter and pH:

"I have been hunting for almost 20 years and made it part of who I am today. Since a young age I have always enjoyed being outdoors and spending time in nature, one can learn so much from it. I enjoy sharing the experiences and memories with others, and always try to show people why I fell inlove with hunting in the first place.

Hostess and pH:

"The bush and nature has always been home to me. I started hunting a few years ago and received my professional hunter qualification in 2021. I am repeatedly amazed by what nature has to offer and always try to learn from every experience I have in the wild outdoors. My passion for animals and nature grow day by day."

Our responsibility towards hunting...

Here at Langkloof we pride ourselves in ethical and responsible hunting practices. We hunt on an 11 120 acre game farm in the Limpopo province, where the animals have a large roaming ground and are self-sustaining.

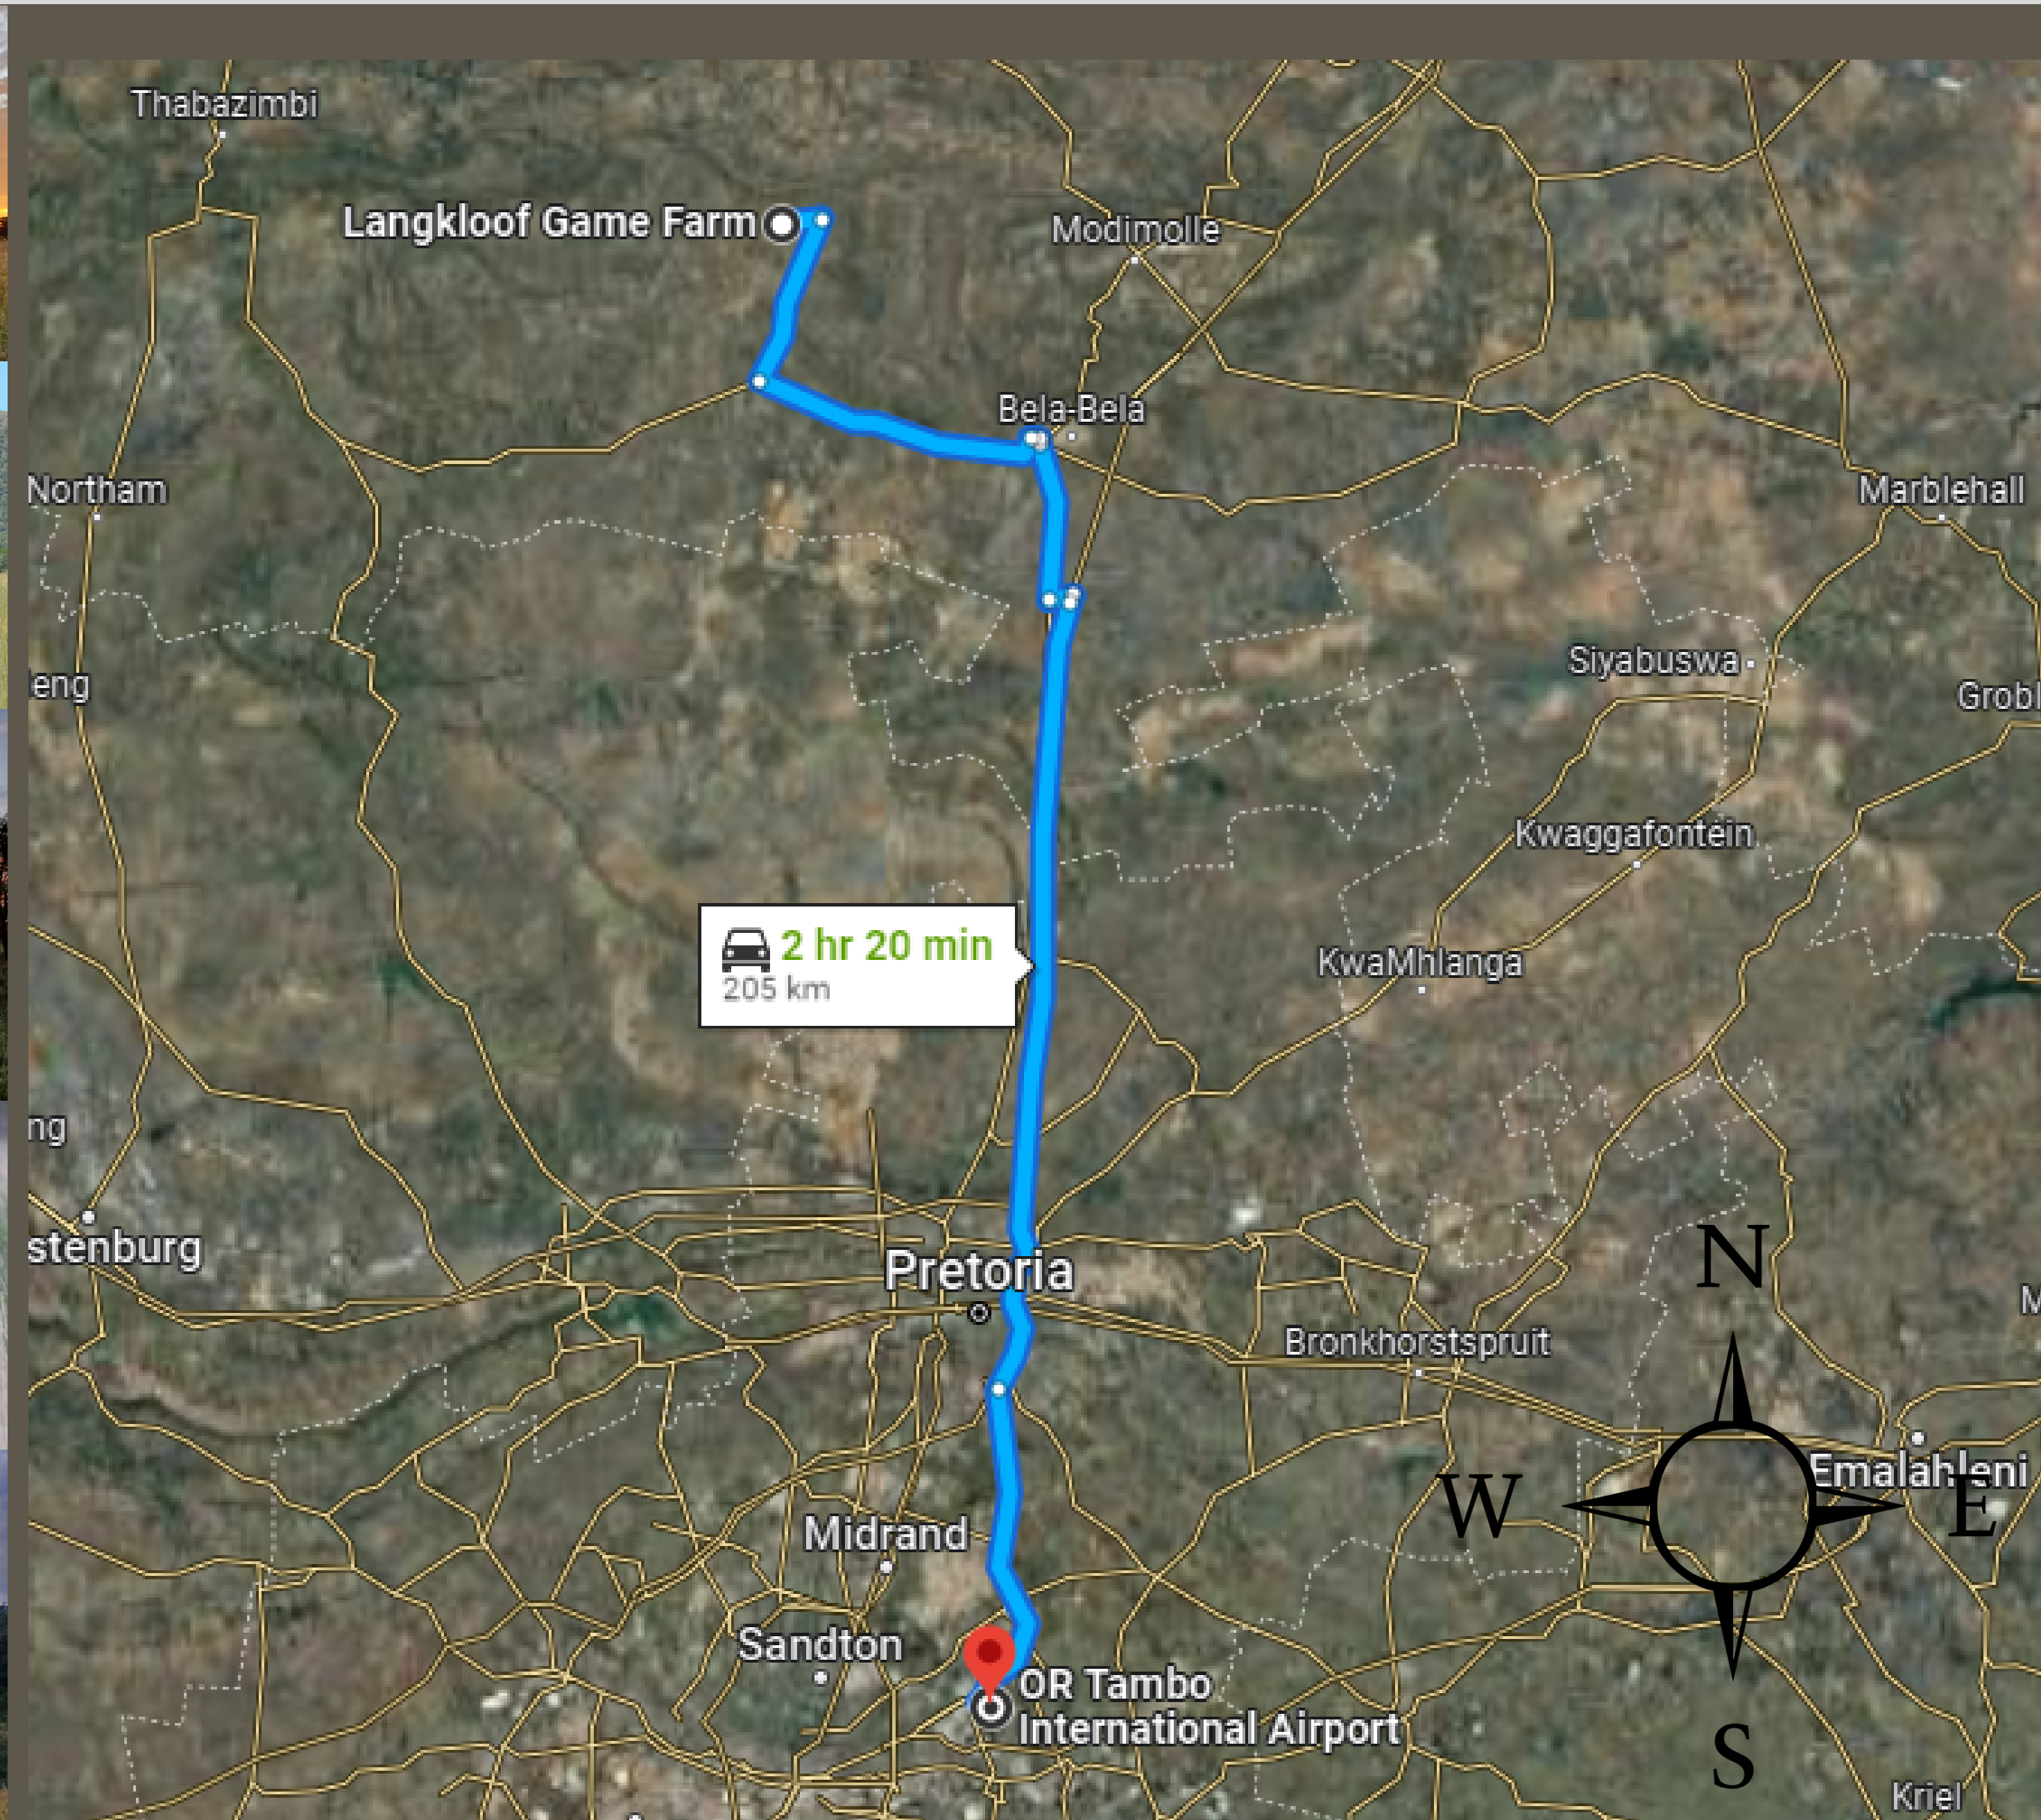

We respect the animals' environment and do our best to ensure all animals are hunted fairly.

Our clients' safety is our first priority, and we encourage that clients take ethical and responsible hunting as serious as we do.

When hunting with us you will experience what it's like being surrounded by the true natural beauty the Southern African bush has to offer.
